this lack of basic cultural competence is common in the west but we still have time to learn before the alien overlords arrive and make us realize we’re all brothers and sisters...