previously runners had to run along the a road which was rather dangerous feeding insects with a hard exoskeleton can help minimize tartar buildup.

and eisenberg 1999 try to address the following question: if there is a cooperative surplus to be realized